The UGRA Constitution reminds us that “All persons retired from the University of Guelph and their surviving spouses are considered members of the Association”.  As 2016-17 President, I look forward to an active year focusing on the Association’s Objectives.

To foster a mutually beneficial relationship with the University of Guelph, and

To promote the welfare of retirees in such matters as University and pensions and health benefits, and access to the University and its facilities.

The UGRA Executive Committee takes a break over the summer but we’ve had two delightful member events in August. About 50 members enjoyed a river cruise on the Grand River near Caledonia and about 75 enjoyed the Retirees’ Social at the newly renovated MacDonald Hall sponsored by the University President’s Office.

The monthly Executive Committee meeting, starting in September, will plan and deliver UGRA activities through the next year. As usual this will include the Fall and Spring Forums at the Arboretum Centre. The Exec will continue to improve the use of direct messaging to our members using email (if you aren’t getting email from the UGRA, let us know your current email address) and our website, www.UGRA.ca.

In support of the objective to foster a relationship with the University, Peter Kevan and I will be enhancing our meetings with the University Executive team. Our objective is to improve communication and document somewhat ad hoc retiree benefits and services provided by the University. The goal is to ensure retirees can access these services and obtain timely help with problems. It will also inform new retirees (our future members) of those benefits and services in a timely manner. This past spring, the UGRA worked with CCS to ensure that retirees with University email addresses were informed and supported during the transition to the new Office365 email system.

Thank you to retiring members of our 2016 Board. A big thanks to Janet Kaufman, last year’s Past President, who has tirelessly helped plan and organize many activities over the last few years, including our support of the 2016 University’s United Way campaign and our upcoming Fall forum. Thank you to retiring members, John Van Esch, who has served for many years, and Judy O’Donnell for their contributions to the work of the UGRA. And a welcome to Roselynn Stevenson, Betty Clyde and Dana Paramskas. Dana returns, continuing as maintainer of our membership database.

Finally, a thank you to Robin Davidson-Arnott, Past-President for getting me started on the role of President – I look forward to his continuing guidance with the Executive Committee.

I’m interested in your suggestions about how the UGRA can support and engage its members through activities and communication. Do you have concerns about University benefits and services for retirees? Would you be interested in more UGRA social events such as our Grand River cruise? Email me your ideas at president@UGRA.ca.

Kent Percival, President, UGRA
In their Fall 2015 Economic Outlook the Ontario government responded to the issue by announcing the Ontario Pension Solvency Funding Framework Review, led by David Marshall advisor for the Ontario Ministry of Finance. The detailed results of this review are uncertain to date. There will not likely be a full exemption from the solvency requirements. There is already enhanced “going concern” funding requirements in many plans.

Mediation meetings to discuss a possible joint pension plan began in February 2015. This led to a report to the COU and to a pause in discussions, as the individual universities contemplated the potential problems. The mediation talks are expected to resume in the Fall of 2016, subject to Mr. Marshall’s review. Six Ontario universities are currently involved in the joint pension plan discussions, including Toronto, Queen’s and Guelph.

The meetings are designed to study and develop a voluntary, multi-employer joint pension plan. The intended plan will be a defined benefit plan. As with most existing local pensions plans, the joint plan will be based on 50/50 contributions by employers and employees. The joint plan would also be jointly administered by both sides as to both terms and changes to the proposed plan.

A new joint plan would require participating universities to merge the terms of existing plans (in itself a very difficult requirement – Guelph alone has three separate pension plans). The result is, in Ms. Harley’s terms, a “dynamic environment”. Ms. Harley emphasized that none of the discussions on a proposed joint pension plan will affect the pensions of any current retirees.

After Ms. Harley’s talk, the business of the Association was discussed by those in attendance. The UGRA Scholarship Fund was discussed, centring on the Notice-of-Motion published in the Spring Newsletter. The motion was carried, as discussed elsewhere in this Newsletter. The retiring members of the Executive were congratulated and thanked for their considerable service and the new Executive was duly elected, followed by adjournment.

The AGM was then followed by a very enjoyable lunch for those who chose to join some of their colleagues for a pleasant and relaxed social occasion.

UGRA Scholarship Fund

The 2016 AGM authorised the Executive to follow a series of prescribed actions regarding the UGRA Scholarship Fund, which is designed to support a close relative of a retired U of G employee with an award of $1500, provided the recipient is currently an undergraduate with at least a 75% average. The motion instructed the Executive to explain to the membership the current financial status of the Fund and to mount “a vigorous campaign” to raise further funds, at least to the $30,000 threshold needed for the Fund to become endowed. If that amount in pledges and actual donations has not been reached by 1 February 2017, the Fund is to be drawn down in further awards and the scholarship withdrawn.

The sense of the AGM attendees was that the Scholarship was worthwhile and helped to meet a need among Guelph undergraduates. UGRA members can expect to hear further from the Executive in the coming months as the AGM instructions are pursued.

There will be more exciting news to be released shortly. Please check the website www.ugra.ca/scholarship/donation. A generous donor is making it possible for us to donate matching funds.

On Wednesday, 31 August the retirees’ social was held in the newly renovated Macdonald Hall, now the new home of the College of Business and Economics. The stately red-brick building had first been opened over 100 years earlier as the residence for women students on campus, particularly those who were part of the Home Economics/Domestic Science diploma and degree programs.

The renovations aimed at providing a new home for the College of Business and Economics, which had been founded some ten years ago, combining Economics with the various programs in the Hotel and Food school. The interior of the building has been almost completely rebuilt with a view to modernizing and updating the learning environment for the students. While some older architectural features were uncovered and retained, much more (such as the classic spiral staircase at the entrance and stretching up three floors) has been replaced by more open and efficient spaces. Old residence rooms have been turned into offices or meeting rooms. The overall effect of the very flexible and open spaces is quite impressive.

Don O’Leary, Vice-President (Finance, Administration and Risk) briefly reviewed the current status of the University, something that most retirees are always interested in. The incoming class of 5300 undergraduates is the largest in the history of the University, making for a total undergraduate student population of 21,000 (in addition to some 2600 graduate students and over 4000 undergraduates at Guelph-Humber). He also pointed to a number of other physical changes on campus, led by the new wing of the athletic centre. Also, the University has announced a federal and provincial governments grant of $30,000,000, more than matched by the University, for major upgrading of laboratories on campus. After some further words from the Dean and the UGRA President, the assembled retirees broke up into several smaller groups and toured the building.

U of G’s 2016 United Way Campaign slogan, $600,000 and Beyond, was revealed at the campaign kick-off on Sept. 22. The University community is one of the biggest supporters of United Way Guelph Wellington Dufferin with U of G retirees contributing over $63,000 in 2015. Contributions to the United Way stay in the community and support over 95 local programs and services. When you donate to United Way you are supporting thousands of people in our community who need their assistance.

Please consider making a donation. Most retirees receive a pledge form in the mail, which can be used to donate directly with a deduction from your monthly pension payment. Pledge forms can also be downloaded from the University’s campaign website at www.uoguelph.ca/unitedway. Local volunteers thoroughly review programs to ensure they are meeting their goals. That means you can be sure your United Way donation is working hard where it is needed most.

Grand River Cruise

In mid-August the Executive took a lead from Peter Kevan who suggested and then organised (along with Cathy Ralston), a dinner-time cruise of the Grand River in the area around Caledonia. Over fifty members chose to take advantage of this opportunity to see a part of the local environment that they might not have seen previously as well as a time to socialise with long-time friends and colleagues. The event went off without a hitch and those involved seemed to enjoy themselves very much. There was an opportunity to witness some of the wildlife that inhabit the river, and it was striking to see the contrasts between the developed/commercial (eastern) side of the river with the undeveloped, 'natural' (western) side of the river which is part of the Six Nations Reserve. The weather was excellent for a refreshing, pleasant outing, including some spectacular sunset views for those on the bus travelling back to Guelph.
Travel Health Benefits

Sun Life Financial has announced on its website that, as of 3 October 2016, there will be a new provider for emergency out-of-country and out-of-province travel assistance. There are no changes to U of G subscribers’ coverage, but there will be some changes to the procedures for communicating with Sun Life Financial and its new partner, Allianz Global Assistance. Members who subscribe to the University health plan are advised to check the website of Sun Life Financial for further information.

Be a Contributing Member of the UGRA (2016)

All retirees are automatically members of the University of Guelph Retirees Association, but our capacity to operate effectively on behalf of retirees depends on members volunteering to become contributing members. This money covers the cost of the newsletter and meeting room rentals for the AGM and the spring and fall forums. It also enables the UGRA to send a representative to the annual meeting of College and University Retiree Associations of Canada.

Please use the attached Contributing Membership Form to send with your Contributing Membership payment. In line with the resolution passed at the 2015 AGM we suggest a contribution of $25 but we welcome contributions of any size whether smaller or larger.

Meetings are held from 1:30-3:30 on the first Tuesday of the month from September to June. A full Board is important for the full and proper functioning of the Association. If you are interested in working on behalf of your fellow retirees and have some time to contribute, please consider letting your name stand, and complete the contact-us form at http://www.ugra.ca/contact-us.

The UGRA Executive Committee Needs Feedback

The UGRA Executive Committee acts on behalf of the interests of University of Guelph retirees. Without input from our members, we operate partly in a vacuum where we try to imagine what retirees see as important issues and concerns. To do our job well, we could use more information, so please take the opportunity to let us know what’s on your mind.

Remembrance Day 2016

The annual University of Guelph Remembrance Day service will be held in War Memorial Hall, beginning at 10:30 am on 11 November 2016. One hundred years ago our society was caught in the grip of a terrible war and this is the opportunity for the University community to remember and to express its gratitude to those among us who lost so much.
